

Get care everywhere with Assist America

Helping your employees travel anywhere – worry-free

The last thing your employees want to worry about is where to find care, when they're away from home. That's why we're here to help. HealthPartners has partnered with Assist America, Inc. (AAI), a global emergency services expert, to bring members travel support and solutions when they need it most.

Bringing you: Savings that matter with unrivaled support

Did you know employees who are very satisfied with their benefits are three times as likely to say they're very satisfied with their jobs? This means happier employees and less turn over costs for you.

Feel confident knowing your employees get more travel support through HealthPartners. Whether they're traveling for work or fun, it's good to know you're giving them one more benefit to make their lives easier. With one-of-a-kind travel support, we're the only local plan offering your employees global support services free of charge. You save money and they get peace of mind.

Bringing your employees: Get care everywhere

No matter where in the world your employees are traveling, HealthPartners is there when they're not feeling their best. Getting sick can be a hassle but with full circle care, your employees can get support with everything from an ear infection to a broken leg. In addition to Virtuwell® and CareLineSM which help with the everyday conditions, we're also there when something more serious happens to your employees when they're on the go.

Together with Assist America: Unmatched support

Let your employees focus on their travel plans, not their health care needs. It's easy for members to find the right care when they're away from home. If they have an unexpected health care need, they simply call Member Services or go online to healthpartners.com/getcareeverywhere. Assist America is available 24/7 all year round. We'll help them find quality providers and doctors. We'll also help find lost luggage or documents, and provide translator referrals—giving them peace of mind.

Helpful answers

When your employees are traveling, searching for answers to unexpected health care needs can be a struggle. We're here to get members the help they need fast. This includes assisting with hospital admission and help filling lost prescriptions. Plus, we answer members' questions about which immunizations and paperwork are needed, before they travel.

Comfort that counts

When something unexpected happens, your employees can count on us to help them work through tough times. This includes providing medical consultation and referrals, sending health updates to loved ones.
